LETTER

Assistant Commissioner for Patents
Washington, D.C. 20231

Dear Sir:

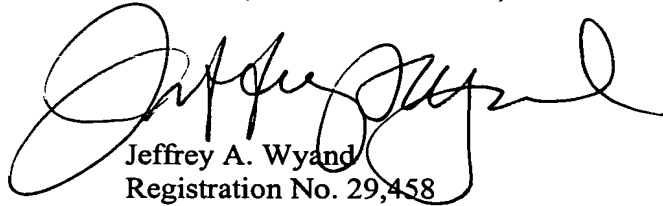

In the referenced patent application at page 26, in line 20, reference is made to a book authored by Rob Gordon. The title listed in the patent application is slightly erroneous, the actual title being "Essential JNI: Java Native Interface". A corresponding version has also been published in Japan in the Japanese language. The Applicant is not in possession of the original English language publication of which chapters 2-7, 12, 14, and 15 are of background interest with regard to the Java language and its use the invention and computer science applications.

Since the Applicants are not in possession of a copy of the English language version and because the document is a rather substantial book, there is no convenient way to supply the document in an Information Disclosure Statement. Thus, by letter, Applicants bring this information to the Examiner's attention.

Respectfully submitted,

LEYDIG, VOIT & MAYER, LTD.
